Enjoy the Celebrated Tastes of San Francisco In Your Own Home!

At Boudin Bakery, we make our bread from the same Sourdough starter, or "Mother Dough," that Isidore Boudin created in San Francisco during the Gold Rush, over 150 years ago. Isidore's marriage of Sourdough with the classic French-style loaf was the beginning of authentic San Francisco Sourdough French Bread. That's why, when Disney wanted to create a real San Francisco culinary experience for you, they invited Boudin to create a demonstration bakery here at Disney's California Adventure™ park.

Order our Chowder in a Bread Bowl, as served at Pacific Wharf Cafe, or try the San Francisco favorite featured here, as well as the many specialty breads and gourmet gifts found in our catalogues and on our website.

Clam Chowder in a Bread Bowl

A San Francisco favorite, this Clam Chowder is made with our own hearty ingredients. The recipe begins with four Sourdough Luigi bowls, and two 19 oz. cans of our Boudin San Francisco Wharf® Clam Chowder. Just heat the Chowder, hollow out the bowls, and serve—there's plenty for four. When the bread bowls are empty, you'll savor the chunks of chowder-soaked Sourdough.
